From logistically challenging and slow... to fast, efficient, and secure: an INfuse Smart Connected Scanning Solution success story

Challenge

At a bank, invoice handling was manual and time-consuming — receive invoice, go to scanner, scan one invoice at a time, go back to desk, open each resulting PDF, then extract and manually keyboard invoice data into the ERP system.

Solution

To digitize documents and automate workflow, Alaris worked with our Partner to create a customized solution. A connector to streamline invoice handling was easily installed on the bank's INfuse AX Scanner. With this new custom connector, the bank has reduced invoice handling time from 40 hours a month to just 10!

Results

1. Customization for the way the bank operates

An employee at the bank needs to process the company's daily invoices. Now he simply walks up to their INfuse AX Scanner and loads up to 80 invoices into the feeder at once.

2. Daily work simplified with greater peace of mind

The employee pushes the "Invoice Scan" button and all invoices go directly and securely into the banking system. He is promptly given feedback if the job was successfully received. The job is done and he knows it's been completed properly.

3. Faster, more efficient workflow achieved

Thanks to INfuse, this job now takes seconds to complete, allowing the employee to move onto other tasks more quickly.

4. Business processes accelerated

The INfuse Solution has increased workflow, reduced costs, and resulted in more productive employees and processes.
